Job Description:

Business Development is involved with all aspects of the value proposition that Swiss Re provides our clients. The group sits at the crossroads of reinsurance and the capital markets, uniquely positioned to understand and evaluate client needs and to explore new and innovative solutions. We engage and work directly with client executives and account managers for companies of all sizes, in all areas of (re)insurance.

As a Summer Analyst in Business Development you will gain in-depth insight into client strategy & financial conditions utilizing all publicly available data (e.g., financial statements, research reports, etc). You will assist in gathering research, compiling industry data, creating and distributing Public Information Books (PIB's), maintaining comparable company analysis files as well as contributing to the construction of draft client presentations. You will need to understand how different Swiss Re products affect a client in terms of key accounting, rating agency, and equity valuation aspects. You will be held to the highest standards when it comes to the financial analysis & client presentations you produce.
