The WestPoint Financial Group Ideal Candidate

When we ask you to think of an ideal candidate for a career with The Central Illinois Agency, this person would have the following characteristics.

- Coachable and able to take direction
- Has high integrity
- Wants to have a significant impact on the lives of others

To be more specific, this person would need to be inherently driven and always strive to be their best. They will be devoted to lifelong learning and will commit to challenging themselves to be relevant in providing leadership to their clients and friends.

Other characteristics of someone fit for the financial services industry include a person who is internally driven and motivated by recognition, financial gain and/or positively impacting the lives of others. Although not necessary, it would be beneficial for this individual to have some life experience outside the college atmosphere. This will afford them the ability to offer perspective to their clients and others they advise. Also, a strong core group of support from family and close friends can help leverage a candidate's success. Additionally, this person needs to be fiscally responsible, while having the ability to manage and run a business practice.

Finally, this person needs to be a strong, positive reflection of The Central Illinois Agency. They need to carry themselves in an ethical manner, work hard, and always maintain a consistent level of self discipline. The decisions we help people to make and challenges we guide them in overcoming affect many generations to come, and is a responsibility that this person should never take lightly.
